Dear Gina and Staff:

When I went to the store this morning following the concert last night by An Dochas and the Haran Irish Dancers, two people stopped me and said, "That was some concert last night! Wasn't it good?" I feel perfectly euphoric today. The concert was well attended by a diverse age of people--which means we may break even. The musicians are first rate and organized a show which had interesting compositions, varying tempo and instrumentation, and a congenial spirit to it. The Haran Irish Dancers were a delight! We liked the contrast and choreography of their dancing. It was an evening that all of us hated to see come to an end. We were able to include a local group, The Tiernan Irish Dancers, which added even more community interest to the performance.

The group made an heroic effort to get to our venue from Dillon, Montana. They left there at 5 in the morning and since they had snow and slush conditions for much of the route, they arrived a half-hour before the starting time of our school show. I was relieved that they arrived safely.

Everyone enjoyed the spirit of the group... outstanding personalities and cooperative 100%. Thank you for helping us arrange to present the An Dochas and the Haran Irish Dancers.

Sincerely,

Sylvia Hunt, Manager of Caldwell Fine Arts
